Welcome to Föhr

Germany's second largest island situated in the North Sea is worth a journey all year long. With this brochure we will show you the most beautiful views of the island. Let yourself be enchanted and enjoy: kilometers of sandy beaches, a unique natural landscape in the middle of the UNESCO World Heritage Wadden Sea and quaint Frisian villages. We wish you a relaxing stay!

Villages

The eleven Frisian villages are among the island's tourist highlights of the island. Small alleys, magnificent thatched-roof houses and lovingly landscaped gardens - as romantic as a movie set. Here you can forget everything around you - stress, everyday life - except one thing: taking photos.

For culture lovers

Churches

A special magnet for visitors are the three medieval churches from the 12th and 13th centuries situated in the villages of Nieblum, Süderende and Wyk-Boldixum. Inside the churches you will find unique treasures of the Middle Ages like magnificent altarpieces and beautiful carvings. The graveyards with their “narrating” gravestones are worth seeing as well. These ornately decorated monuments tell fascinating stories from the lives of whalers, serving as reminders of the island’s golden age. Guided church and graveyard tours take place regularly and are listed at 🌐 foehr.de/veranstaltungskalender

Markets

Every Wednesday and Saturday (9am to 12pm) from mid-May to October you can buy fresh fruits and vegetables, jams, cheese, meat and other delicacies from the island on the small farmers’ market in Wyk. During the summer months, small treats and many different dainties are available on Sundays (11am to 3pm) at the fish market in Wyk and on Thursdays (10am to 2pm) at the Oevenum village market. A detour to the Oevenum village square is well worth it: there, an exhibition pays tribute to the history of the Oevenum fire brigade. More information 🌐 foehr.de/maerkte

Harbour tour

How does a nautical chart work? What were starboard and port again? On a guided tour of Wyk Harbour, learn exciting things about shipping, the dangers of the weather and crabs that have travelled far, about the curvature of the earth and large lighthouses, buoys and pricks, storms and tides and the harbour in the past and today. More information 🌐 hafenfuehrung.de

Göntje's bicycle tours

Sailors and emigrants, witches and murderers: the history of the island of Föhr has many sides. During a relaxed bike tour across the island, Göntje – a born-and-bred young woman from Föhr – shares stories of historical criminal cases, adventures and other tales from the island. More information 🌐 foehrer-geschichten.de

Music by the sea

Every summer, the concerts of different bands attract a vast crowd at the seaside promenade. Listening to music for all tastes while enjoying the view across the sea makes for a perfect summer day. The concerts do not take place on very cool and rainy days. More information 🌐 foehr.de/musik-am-meer
